New, Richly-Bound, Matched Library Volumes Use Everyday Situations to Teach Science, Business, Cultural and School Subjects; Assure Complete Mastery for Faster Job Advancement; Better School Grades, Richer, Fuller Living—In Just 15 Minutes a Day!

Now—the famous, proven MADE SIMPLE method offers you an education worth hundreds of dollars for pennies a day! Complete practical instruction in science, business and cultural subjects that you use every day for the children in school, mother at home, dad in his work and everybody in all their social contacts.

You can master these subjects in as little as 15 minutes a day, in weeks instead of years, with these books that are recommended by parents and noted educators for all age groups.

Learn Whenever You Want—Like Having Private Instructors In Your Own Home

This MADE SIMPLE SELF-TEACHING set is the only encyclopedia that makes important subjects part of your general knowledge instead of having to look in books to solve every problem. It covers practical, useful subjects in everyday language. It's like having private instructors in your own home. Learn at your own pace. No outside work, nothing else to buy. The books start from the beginning, assume no previous knowledge and lead you quickly and carefully through the entire subject. Prepared by experts for adults working without supervision, they also perfectly supplement classroom texts, which contain confusing technical language.

Beautiful Library Volumes Perfect for Learning, Brush-Up, Permanent Reference

Whether you want to learn for the first time, review subjects you forgot or use for ever-ready reference, you could find no better set or price. These handsome 7¾ x 10½ inch, 24-carat gold imprinted, matched library volumes are not digests or outlines. Every point is made absolutely clear by illustrations and simple step-by-step explanations, using everyday situations. No half-answers to confuse you, no cross-references to make you use several books to get information. All the books teach you naturally, without memorizing long lists of rules.

Complete Explanations, Simple Illustrations Make Every Point Clear—No Previous Knowledge of the Subject Required

Here's how complicated subjects are MADE SIMPLE. In PHYSICS MADE SIMPLE, you are shown this simple home experiment, which costs nothing. Hold one edge of a letter paper against your chin, just below lower lip, with the paper hanging over and down. Blow above the paper and it will rise as if pulled up in the air stream. This simple principle makes airplanes fly and teaches us to make moving objects move quickly and easily. Other books give you Bernoulli's Law, molecular action and other confusing terms. By the time you get to the experiment, if there was one, you wouldn't understand it. Here you read a simple explanation, do the experiment and then learn the technical terms, so you learn naturally, by doing, without memorizing anything. This has worked for many people who thought they were more hopeless than you may think you are.

You would pay many times the price for much less beautiful and useful encyclopedias. But these books, with sample military and civil service tests, hundreds of illustrations, hundreds of safe, easy home experiments, thousands of pages of clear, concise, valuable instruction and self-tests with answers in the back, will be USED, ENJOYED and ADMIRED by all your family and friends.

"DOING THE TWIST"

"*Rat*tle-rattle, rattle-*rat*tle," Richard Rattlesnake rattled.

The other rattlesnakes turned their beady eyes and stared at him. "Hey," said Robert, the biggest snake of all, "you're not rattling right."

"What do you mean?" asked Richard.

"Well, the way you rattle, it doesn't sound scary."

"I don't want it to," Richard said. "I'm rattling in rhythm. Listen." He rattled some more, the way he had before. "That's a twist."

"A what?" demanded the other snakes.

"Twist. I'm rattling in twist rhythm. Want to join me?" And he rattled faster and louder, "*Rat*tle-rattle, rattle-*rat*tle."

"Phooey on that stuff!" grumbled Robert, slithering down into the grass and coiling up in a heap. "Rattle scary or don't rattle at all!"

"Yes!" grumbled all the other snakes, for they always agreed with whatever their leader said. "Don't rattle if you can't sound scary. Rattles aren't for twists!"

"But rattles can be for twists, if you try," said Richard. He might as well have been talking to the man in the moon, for all the attention he got. The rattlesnakes had all imitated Robert, and had slithered down into the grass and coiled up into sleepy heaps.

Richard wasn't sleepy. He felt too full of twist rhythm. So he crept away from the others and wandered through the moonlit countryside rattling a happy twist tune he had made up. But since he could only rattle, and couldn't sing, he had to imagine what the tune would really sound like. Suddenly his imaginary tune came true! Up on a tree branch a voice sang, "Whip-poor-will, whip-poor-will, whip-poor-will!"

"Hey!" Richard Rattlesnake shouted. "Hey you! Who are you?"

A bird hopped down beside him, but as soon as she saw him, she shrieked and started to fly away.

"Don't be afraid!" Richard called. "I'm not like other rattlesnakes! All I care about is twist music!"

"Twist music!" chirped the bird. She hurried back to him. "Why, twist music is just what I adore!"

"I know. I heard you. You were singing something in twist rhythm just now. That's why I called to you. The tune you were singing was just the one I always imagine. My twist rattle would match it perfectly. We are a wonderful combination. Try it again."

"Whip-poor-will, whip-poor-will, whip-poor-will," sang the bird.

"Perfect!" said Richard. "We'll be the only twist band for miles around! Everyone will want to listen to our music, and dance the twist to it! We'll be famous! But first, what's your name?"

"Whitey. Whitey Whippoorwill. I'm named after the song I sing."

"Well, Whitey, let's start practicing. With your tune combined with my rattle-rhythm, we'll be a sensation!"

And a sensation they were! After two weeks of practice and rehearsal, Whitey and Richard rented a hall in Forest Square. They had signs put up which said: COME HEAR THE WHIPPOORRATTLES! THE GREATEST TWIST BAND FOR MILES AROUND!

And for miles around the animals came, to listen, to applaud, to dance. "Whip-poor-will . . . *rat*tle-*rat*tle . . . whip-poor-will, *rat*tle . . . rattle-rattle-rattle . . . whip-poor-will . . . *rat*tle-rattle . . . *whip*poorwill."

The tune got louder. The rattle got faster. The rhythm somehow got into the feet of the dancers. The whole hall was filled with twist rhythm. The WHIPPOORRATTLES were a tremendous success!

But out in the deep grasses beyond Forest Square, somebody wasn't so pleased with their success. Robert Rattlesnake rattled ferociously and rolled his beady eyes and slithered angrily. And all the other snakes imitated him.

"That silly Richard is making fools of us!" Robert yelled.

"Yes!" agreed the others.

"We've always scared everyone with our rattles! Now everyone's getting the notion rattles are to dance to! Nobody will be scared when we rattle anymore! What's the use of being a rattlesnake if we can't scare anyone?"

"Yes!" agreed the others.

"Besides, why should Richard be famous for miles around when I'm not. Aren't I the leader around here?"

"Yes!" agreed the others.

"I told him to stop twisting. I told him and he disobeyed me. Nobody disobeys me and gets away with it!"

"Yes!" agreed the others.

"Come on, let's go find him and teach him a lesson!"

"Yes!" And all the snakes followed Robert through the grass to Forest Square.

The snakes entered the dance hall. The rhythm hit them like some magic potion! They lifted their flat heads into the air and waved them back and forth in twist rhythm!

"Whip-poor-will . . . rattle-*rat*tle . . . whip-poor-will . . . *rat*tle!"

In a minute Robert was rattling a twist right along with Richard. So were all his followers. The animals made room for them to rattle their way through the dance floor to the platform.

"Boy!" grinned Robert at Richard. "Twisting beats scaring any old day!"

"Glad to have you here," said Richard, "but remember, I'm the leader of the WHIPPOORRATTLES."

"Yes!" agreed the other snakes.

"Yes!" agreed Robert Rattlesnake.

"Yes!" agreed the ten-thousand dancers in the hall.

"Whip-poor-will!" said Whitey. "Let's twist!"
